School should provide alternatives for expelled students

I'm calling up about the September 13 article by Jim Tantalio about expulsion. I recently moved here from the state of Delaware, where schools are required to provide alternative educational opportunities for students that they expelled, whether it be home schooling or an alternative school.

I find it very interesting that they are unwilling to take him back to school with only 12 days left before he's eligible.

I think it's ridiculous. The schools should review their reasons for expulsion for someone who's not a violent person. He's very articulate in his writing and should be back in school.

Caller hopes that accused firefighter isn't getting paid

I heard that there is a Westland firefighter who was caught with drugs and is still getting paid. He'll probably get off scot-free, too.

What is this? Just because he's a Westland firefighter, he is going to get away with this? What is this world coming to.

Mayor Thomas joins Mark McGwire in the record books

Mark McGwire's record of 62 home runs reminded me of something else. It's been 62 days since Westland Mayor Bob Thomas has been on vacation and left Westland. That's probably another record - 62 days.

Is paper squelching Westland crime stories?

My house was broken into, as well as my friends, when I was on vacation. From my living room I can see a major intersection, where approximately four to five cars a day are pulled over. Some are arrested, some are let go.

If the Westland Eagle is the official newspaper of Westland, why is there never a police beat in it? Is it so Westland can try to maintain an upstanding appearance? Or is so they can try to live up to the place to be? [Detailed crime stories regularly appear in the Westland Eagle, despite some reader objections. Sorry we missed your burglary - Ed.]

Romulus Pumpkin Fest slated to open Saturday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The popular Romulus Police K-9 Unit will kick off the second in a series of Romulus Pumpkin Festivals at noon on Saturday in downtown Romulus (Goddard road).

The Pumpkin Festivals were originated last year by Susan Watts and Maria Lambert and a host of volunteers, who opted to create a family fun activity in the city featuring a fall harvest season theme.

Other Saturday activities will include: the "Rockin R Sweeties" group from the Romulus Senior Center from 1 to 2 p.m.; a rock trio "Broad Ripple" from 2 to 3 p.m. and Karaoke with Excalibur featuring Paul Estisoy from 3 p.m. on. Later that day "Channel 6", a unique musical group featuring two Romulus educators Henry James and Mark Fernandez, will entertain from 7 to 11 p.m.

On Sunday, the Romulus Police K-9 Unit will return at 11 a.m. to perform until noon.

They will be followed by "The Luck of the Draw" country musical group from noon until 2:30 p.m., "The Cloggers" from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. and finally the "Red Garter Band" from 4 until 6 p.m.

Also on Saturday announcements will be made on the names of the winners of the House Decorating Contest and the Pie Baking Contest.

Earlier (at 7:30 p.m. Friday) announcements will be made on the Pumpkin Growing Contest and the Sunflower Growing Contest.

BREAKFASTS, LUNCHES

The Romulus Kiwanis Club will offer pancake breakfasts from 7 to 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday at the Romulus Recreation Facility on Bibbins.

The Kiwanis Club and Senior Center volunteers will offer fundraiser lunches from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days at the Senior Center.

Other food operations will also be available in the festival area.

Hay Rolling Contest (3 p.m.)

Sack Races (4 p.m.)

Road Rally (6 to 9 p.m.)

Diaper Derby (12:30 p.m. Sunday)

Various church groups and other organizations will also take part this weekend. Mayor William Oakley announced Monday that twice the number of vendors also will take part this weekend compared to the festival's first effort last year.

The Community United Methodist Church will have three groups taking part - its Men's Club, Women's Circles and youth organization.

The youth and women will be selling cakes, pies, cookies and crafts in support of the church's building program.

The Men's Club will be offering a putting adventure both Saturday and Sunday for $1 with winners gaining a chance to win entrance fare into the club's non-alcoholic major golf outing the following week at 8 a.m. Sept. 26 at Shady Hollow Golf Course.

The two person scramble costs $45 a person and the highlight of the luncheon after the golf outing will be the awarding of the annual Charlie Lau Memorial Golf Award.

On Saturday the Romulus Wesleyan Church will be offering a free series of roller blade hockey games and other activities for youth at Mary Ann Banks Memorial Park - adjacent to the 150-year old church near Five Points.

Pastor Steve Adams of the Wesleyan Church said his congregation has taken its involvement in the community extremely seriously, donating $1,500 to this fun time activity session for youth.

The hockey sign-ups will take place from noon to 1 p.m. Saturday. The games will follow as well as a series of other children's games through 6 p.m. that day.

3,000 more parking places to be ready in city soon

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

As Northwest Airlines management scrambles to win back passenger allegiance, Romulus city officials Monday night okayed the potential opening of 3,000 new parking slots for airport users and area travelers by this Thanksgiving.

Tom DiPietro, attorney for Airport Landing Inc., obtained permission from the Romulus City Council to open the long term parking facility fronting on Merriman and Ecorse - to be known as Quik Park - prior to the opening of the 108 unit Red Roof Inn next spring.

The council had originally ruled that the parking lot not be started until the hotel was completed, but acceded to the hotel corporation's request to relieve airport parking congestion this holiday season - the heaviest parking crunch of the year in Romulus.

DiPietro displayed current photos of the Red Roof Inn's construction process and stated to doubters the heavy work already done on the three story brick hotel shows there is "too much already there for anyone to walk away from."

Council members William Crova, Michael Prybyla and Debbie Romak pressed DiPietro for assurances that all the landscaping work be done prior to the opening of Quik Park.

But Prybyla, who said he did not expect to be called upon to vote on the city's language change, voted against opening the parking lot early.

The other six members of the council approved the change.

Meanwhile Northwest Airlines was busy Monday and Tuesday getting its Metro Airport facilities ready for heavy use later this week and were battling a negative attitude built up against it by passengers during the recent two week pilots' strike.

Some angered passengers vowed they would continue to use alternate transportation as much as possible to let Northwest leaders know their extreme displeasure over recent inconveniences caused by the strikes.

Airport restrooms, other areas improved during recent Northwest strike

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne County employees and private work crews made the best of the recent downtime at Detroit Metro Airport to repair, remodel and brighten the image of Northwest passenger use areas, Airport Director David Katz revealed last Friday.

Katz said maintenance workers were able to step up their work efforts during the days during the strike, where previously the work load had to be limited to late night hours during the heavy trafficked days at Metro.

Trying to "make the best of a bad situation," Katz revealed "we have been doing everything we can to ensure that Detroit Metro Airport is in the best possible condition when things get back to normal" in about a week.

County maintenance crews have put in hundreds of hours

They also vowed they will have little patience with Northwest in coming weeks/months, if further work stoppages, slowdowns or strikes develop before the airlines settles contracts with other unions - particularly with the machinists.

Approximately twenty five percent of the normal Northwest flights were suppose to be back in the air by yesterday. The remainder would return within the next week.

Area residents were speculating - and hoping - that a round of discount tickets would be in the offing, once regular flights are resumed.

Frequent flyers were the early announced winners by Northwest, but other passengers expressed hope that stepped up efforts would be made by Northwest employees and management on such issues as on-time arrivals, luggage deliveries and worker friendliness on the job.

It is expected that Northwest's flights to the Orient and high priority cities within the U.S. would begin this week, followed by the more general flight patterns.

Airport Director David Katz and Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara were "very pleased with the strike settlement last Saturday" saying the economic impact at and around the airport was significant as were the inconveniences to our customers."

Conway added "in the meantime, we (Metro Airport leaders) have notified Northwest that we will do everything possible so they can get the air service back up."

Meanwhile there was general jubilation throughout Romulus businesses - service stations, restaurants and delivery services - that had been seriously impacted by the Northwest strike in recent weeks.

Managers were happy for their employees, who will soon be filling their normal work hour cycles. The pilots' strike hurt the low income employees at the airport and greater Romulus area the most.

on airfield repair and maintenance projects since the Aug. 29 work stoppage by Northwest pilots, according to Metro Airport Director of Maintenance Vince Petitpren.

"Work that we'd normally confine to the midnight shift - so as not to interrupt the flow of air traffic - we can now do during the daytime as well," Petitpren said.

County workers have done a number of runway and taxiway projects, including repainting pavement markers, repairing light fixtures, grading runway edges, replacing taxiway reflectors and inspecting, and performing preventative maintenance.

Interior work, such as renovating key airport restrooms on Concourse C, refurbishing the baggage claim area and upgrading the Home Turf Sports Bar and Grill also has been done by collective work crews, both public and private at the airport.

Canton cop qualifies for sniper shoot

Canton police officer Craig Bauldry recently earned his instructor certification following an intensive two-week rifle instructor program put on by the National Rifle Association (NRA) at the Marine Corps base in Quantico, Virginia.

Bauldry completed the Rifle Instructor Development School for both metallic sight rifles and long-range optical rifles. The prestigious program involves precision rifle shooters from across the country. Only nine students, however, completed the training, including Bauldry.

The 34-year-old officer attended the program as the first step in the Canton Public Safety Department's efforts to begin hosting different types of precision shooting schools. A basic sniper school for special operations officers is planned in May of 1999.

Bauldry, who has been with Canton for 11 years, is a certified precision team rifle shooter with the department, skilled in an area known as sniper-countersniper. He is also a member of the western Wayne County Special Operations Team and has been involved in precision shooting competitions.

In a related note, Canton Police will be hosting the First Annual Law Enforcement Sniper Counter Sniper Match on October 3 at the department range on Sheldon Road. The competition is open to individuals and two-person teams.

Various courses are planned including a cardio course, timed shooting scenarios, memory courses, five-round groups, observation games and more. Some of the competition will involve elevated platform shooting.

Bauldry is organizing the competition along with other members of the department.

Anti-suicide campaigns already being kicked off

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

As expected a major political fight -- one that could reach the $5 million level in Michigan -- was outlined Monday by opponents of the planned Proposal B ballot issue that would permit doctor assisted suicides.

It is expected that the Metro Detroit TV airwaves will be filled with political ads on both sides of this controversial battle through this November.

In addition many churches will be hearing statements or debates on this issue the next two months.

Merian's Friends earlier collected enough voter signatures to get the assisted suicide issue on the ballot this year.

Ed Pierce, who headed the signature drive that got the issue on the ballot, expects his organization to raise about $2 million to press their fight to get the assisted suicide question approved.

But he fully knows that the opposition will raise at least twice that to seek its defeat.

Key among the 20 groups fighting the suicide proposal are the Right to Life of Michigan (famous for its anti-abortion fights), the Michigan Catholic Conference and the State Medical Society.

The hospice groups in Michigan also are expected to take a strong stance against the ballot option.

Medical Society President Dr. Cathy Blight was quoted as saying "if this many organizations can have this many reasons for opposing it, it clearly must be bad legislation."

If the ballot issue is approved by Michigan voters, it would make this state only the second to get voter approval. The first was Oregon.

Despite heavy pressure from their church leaders numerous Christians have yet to make up their mind on the issue -- particularly if they have witnessed a long death struggle by a close friend or family member.

Even Bishop Donald Ott of the United Methodist Church in Eastern Michigan -- sided with the pro-assisted suicide efforts of Dr. Jack Kevorkian. Ott was the jury foreman in the most prominent courtroom battle Kevorkian has faced to date.

State Sen. William Van Regenmorter (R-Hudsonville) called the assisted suicide proposal "the most dangerous proposal to ever be on the Michigan ballot."

The senator claimed that in The Netherlands -- where assisted suicide has been declared legal -- about 1,000 persons are put to death without their consent or knowledge.

Evidence may close Melody for good

As the dust settles, and the yellow crime tape goes up, details of the undercover investigation at the Melody Theatre are slowly being released. And if what we hear is true, the Melody Theatre are slowly being released. And news could be better: We cheered long and hard when police raided the smut joint a couple of weeks ago. But we also were very cautious in our opinion that the place would remain closed. After all, the same type of raid took place in the 1970's, only to have first amendment lawyers come to the aid of the Melody owners and beat prosecutors in court.

The Melody was allegedly a premier gay hangout. Police investigators claim they saw only one female enter the premises during their several week investigation. Hundreds of guys would show-up on any given weekend night to partake in the X-rated movies, books, videos and peepshows. On the surface, although it might be offensive to many in our community, watching an X-rated movie is not against the law.

What is allegedly against the law, however, were some of the extras the Melody was offering. Topless joints in the area offer their table dances and private showers. The Melody, according to police offered their gay patrons a variety of extras that allegedly featured sex between patrons.

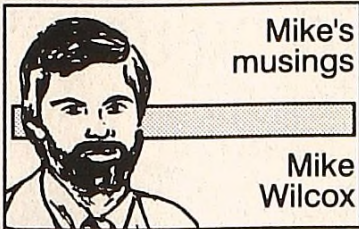

One of those alleged extras were tiny booths with lights fixed to the top of them. A plexiglass divider made it easy for one patron to see into the booth of another. Depending on whether you are a voyeur or an exhibitionist you would watch the neighboring booth or entertain. The lights allowed you, if you were shy, to watch from the dark, or vice versa, entertain in the bright lights.

Another alleged extra according to our police sources was nicknamed the "glory hole." These were literally holes in the wall where patrons could allegedly be serviced anonymously from another on the other side of the wall.

If these descriptions are true, I would say the Wayne County Prosecutor's office has a very nice case to close this Inkster eyesore for good. Wouldn't that be a nice Christmas present for the City of Inkster? Maybe law enforcement officials could make it doubly good by adopting a zero tolerance campaign on smut and next going after the notorious bookstore across the street from the Melody... the Book Shack.

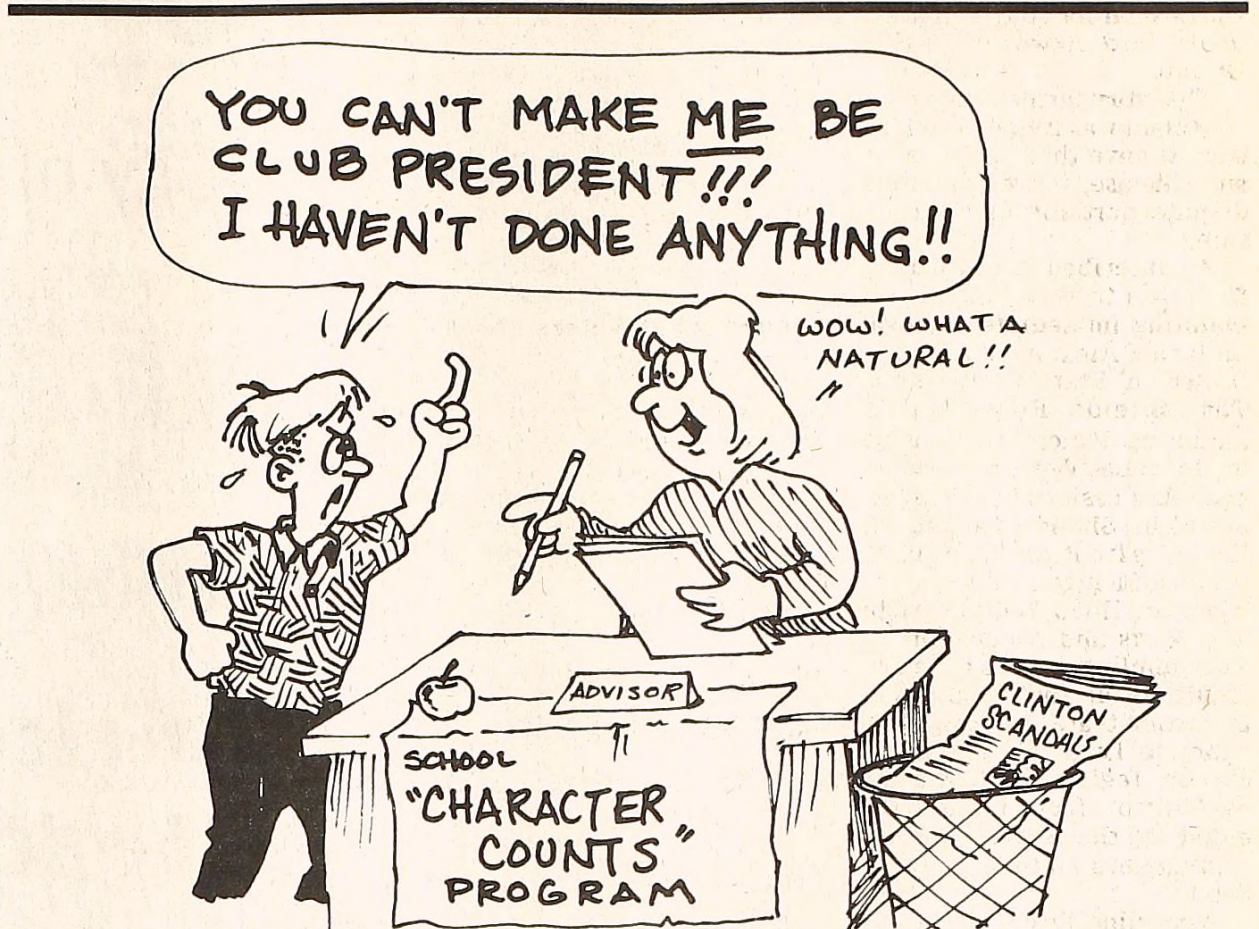

Speaking of zero tolerance. The campaign against prostitution was stepped up a notch when the City of Wayne police got into the act last Friday and Saturday. The Wayne cops operated a "sweep" on Michigan Avenue netting fourteen "johns" and two hookers.

I found it hard to believe that we have a prostitution problem in Wayne, but police officers confirmed, the illegal activity exists. One explanation was that hookers don't always work the same corners. When the heat was put on in Inkster a couple of weeks ago and several "johns" were arrested, the hookers moved down the street to Wayne. It didn't take long for Wayne police to react. They should be commended for operating the sweep.

Softcore 'Starr Report' smears Clinton

If Republicans want to impeach President Clinton, then they miscalculated when they broadcast the 445-page report Starr Report on the Internet.

Though the report had been hyped as containing evidence of "high crimes and misdemeanors," the evidence was missing from the report.

Instead of a smoking gun, we read: "President Clinton once confided in Ms. Lewinsky that he was uncertain whether he would remain married after he left the White House. He said in essence, 'who knows what will happen four years from now when I am out of office?'" Ms. Lewinsky thought that "maybe she will be his wife."

This is not evidence for perjury. This is trash talk, a step above the report's narration of obscene stories about the president's private life.

In my opinion, Starr's trash is not designed to bring the president to court. It's designed to elect Republicans in 1998.

During the Clinton presidency,

Ivan Helfman

Republican congressmen and women have learned that they can thrive running against Clinton's character. Since Clinton first lied his way into the presidency, Republicans control Congress for the first time in half a century. The GOP won 32 governor races.

Though the Democrats had expected to regain seats in the House this year, the Lewinsky scandal put the kibosh on their hopes.

A Republican tide is sweeping the country. The party's lead in congressional races has grown to seven points, a modern day high, and political tea leaf readers predict a Republican gain of 20 seats in the House and five in the Senate.

While I am an independent and don't support either party, I'd rather that the Republicans gained on the issues. Unfortunately, they have no issues, having abandoned their 1994 election-year gimmick, the "Contract with America."

Instead, they're running against Clinton's character.

Unfortunately, to trash Clinton, they've flooded the airwaves and cables with soft-core pornography stories about Clinton's Oval Office fling with Monica Lewinsky. While adults are entitled to their share of degrading gossip in this imperfect world, kids aren't.

The Republican's trashing of the "Education President" is sending the worst possible message to kids: be unfaithful to your wife; prey on young Interns; and make love, not work, at the office. It's also teaching adolescents to talk dirty.

The anti-Clinton votes they will receive aren't worth the damage they're doing to children or to our system of government. The Republican's trash Clinton strategy may be winning politics, but it's a recipe for a nasty country.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

You've Arrived At The Twilight Zone In Cyberspace

Dear Mr. Ross: My problem isn't that uncommon anymore. I'm married to an Internet freak. My husband is literally glued to our computer—24 hours a day. He's lost his job because of it and he's about to lose his family. He barely eats and for the last week, a shower has been out of the question. Most women worry about their husbands having an affair with another woman. Mine is having one with a computer.

I've thought about destroying the machine but my husband said he'd take his own life if I did. Your sending me a check won't solve my dilemma but it could make a difference. I figure if the kids and I left maybe he would realize that he's throwing his life away. I'm so darn angry at him I can't think straight. We need to leave here—my kids need some stability and quite frankly, they are frightened by their father's behavior. Asking $1,200 seems like a lot, but first month's rent and security deposit on an apartment don't come any cheaper.

Running Scared. ... The News, Northfield, MN

Dear Scared: Yours is the most extreme case I've heard of regarding a cyberspace junkie. The only words of wisdom I have is that you treat it like any other addiction, which means your next move is to move out.

Only through some sort of intervention will your husband begin to see the light of day rather than a blinking screen. It's mighty disruptive, but don't give up hope. The $1,200 I'm sending will set things in motion. However, a strong support network of friends and family is what will see you through this crisis.

Dear Percy Ross: It's my dream to be a good fly fisherman. A well-made rod will cost around $600 and that's what I need to pursue my dream. I wanted to get a job, but my parents will only allow me to work weekends so my grades won't suffer. And no one wants to hire me for just weekends. I've been fly fishing for about 3 years using a friend's rod, or the cheap one I bought that broke after a couple months. Hey, Percy Ross, any help would be great.

Joe Carp ... Patriot News, Harrisburg, PA

Dear Joe Carp: I only print a person's name if I think they will not suffer any loss of esteem. My turning you down (which I'm in the process of), shouldn't cause you any long-term ill effects. The problem is I'd secretly like to help you out, but I guess it just wouldn't be right because of all the needy people who have written before you.

We'll just call yours "the big one that got away."

Dear Percy: A pox—a pox upon the world, Percy! You were the only one who ever helped us. We've been laughed at, spit upon and totally ignored by family. No one would help us except you. Isn't helping others part of having more than you need? Does the Lord not love a cheerful giver?

Percy, that first $1,700 you sent helped so much, but now we need a little more. And I'd hate so much to trouble you a third time, so could you add a little extra, just to see us through a rainy day? I figure $20,000 would give us the freedom to make good choices. Give us that freedom, Percy.

Mr. T. W. ... Advance Newspapers, Grand Rapids, MI

Dear Mr. W.: In your figuring, you figured wrong because I'm not the soft touch you take me for. Besides, with $20,000 worth of freedom you're liable to hurt yourselves and I don't want to shoulder the burden of such a mishap.

Gambling can be stopped in Detroit

To the Editor:

Yesterday we asked Gov. Engler to remove James Alexander, the senior attorney of Gov. Engler's two Republican appointees on the Board of State Canvassers. Gov. Engler has the obligation to remove any appointee for conflict of interest, abuse of office and malfeasance.

To the extent that John Truscott can be trusted to speak for the Governor, Engler was reported today to reply:

Jim Alexander absolutely has no conflict of interest.

However, in the same Lansing news story, Alexander is quoted as admitting: "I made a mistake. I shouldn't have initiated the vote at last Monday's meeting that delays consideration of the anti-casino petitions until September 18. I forgot to recuse myself."

Additional investigation today of 1996 and 1997 campaign finance reports of the two committees that raised and spent $11.3 million to get Proposal E passed by a 1% margin in 1996, and Alexander's January 25, 1998 'Lobby Registration Report' filed with the Secretary of State Bureau of Elections, further implicates James Alexander in serious wrong doing. Probably bribery.

We have a paper trail in state records of how James Alexander has corrupted the political process in Michigan for personal gain by not disclosing his attorney/lobbyist representation of gambling casino promoters since 1995.

Alexander, as Chairman of the Board of State Canvassers, voted to validate petition signatures to put Proposal E as a Legislative Initiative by Petition on the November 1996 general election ballot. Previously unchallenged records show most of the petition circulators were not registered voters from Michigan as required by state election law. Alexander's secret clients paid over $1 million to an out-of-state firm to send in crews from California, Ohio, North Carolina and Oklahoma.

'Native American gambling casino operators' joined Las Vegas gambling casino operators in funneling $8 million into Michigan during the final three weeks of the 1996 campaign. They barely won voter approval for the State of Michigan to license three gambling casinos in Detroit. Campaign treasurer for the main committee was Thomas Celani, CEO, Action Distributing, Inc., 35455 Veronica, Livonia, MI 48150.

Something called 'Z.R.X., LLC', listed in Secretary of State records at the same Celani address, reported contributing $5,061,000.

Yesterday's THE DETROIT NEWS described how Thomas Celani stopped delivery of Miller Beer from Action Distributing after receiving 'what were described as bomb components at his Bloomfield Township home three days before the sale of Action, according to Tom Shields, a spokesman for Action Distributors and Atwater Casino Group.

The story further states: 'Celani was trying to sell Action to pave the way for a casino license, but a Teamsters dispute partially blocked the sale.'

As described in our August 26 letter to Gov. Engler demanding immediate removal of James Alexander from the Board of State Canvassers, Tom Shields, Roger Martin and John Pirich, all Lansing touts for Las Vegas and Indian gambling casinos in Michigan, are using Shield's Lansing office as a front for 'Citizens to Protect Michigan Jobs'.

Celani, Ilitch, Nellie Varner, Las Vegas and Native American gambling casinos have evidently set up that front group to orchestrate James Alexander to keep our grassroots citizen Legislative Initiative by Petition from being validated by the Board of State Canvassers before Friday, Sept. 4.

According to our Michigan Constitution, we have every right to expect our petitions will be validated by the Board of State Canvassers in time for the November 3, 1998 statewide general election.

The Secretary of State Bureau of Elections has been checking the numerical sufficiency of registered voters on our petitions for almost two months. We turned in 277,815 when we only needed 247,127. Close scrutiny repeatedly demanded by James Alexander on behalf of his gambling casino front group still has not reduced the number of valid signatures below the minimum number required.

If Gov. Engler will immediately remove James Alexander as an unlawful roadblock, the Board of State Canvassers could schedule a public meeting upon 18 hours' notice, and voters could decide on Nov. 3, 1998 to stop casino gambling in Detroit before it starts. Opinion polls show voters will prohibit gambling casinos in Detroit if the issue is on the ballot as Proposal D on Nov. 3, 1998.

Sincerely,
Bill McMaster

Conley's wife disputes Turner's denial of endorsement

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to reply to a news story headlined: "Turner denies endorsing Conley". Naturally, I cannot be pleased with the situation that has transpired nor the reporting of it and yes, even less than pleased about the related statements coming from the campaign of the Democratic incumbent.

Do not misinterpret my displeasure, however. I have no ill feelings towards Mr. Turner or Ms. Dehart. It's just that, collectively, they happen to be (in my mind) the example of du jour of today's political arena.

My husband is a newcomer to this. Although I firmly believe he can be a strong and effective leader, I regret that he has not been fully trained on what it means to be politically savvy. I also regret that the statement by Ms. DeHart that her campaign will be run with "honesty and integrity" infers that The Conley Campaign is not.

In fact, what I shall tactfully refer to as a misunderstanding between Mr. Conley and Mr. Turner, is a representation of Conley's attempt to be completely honest. Perhaps it's naive of him to carry around that notebook of his which he uses to jot down notes and record the conversations he'd had. It's his attempt to be accurate and fair.

Be careful what you say to him, then. He firmly believes that one should be accountable for any of their words which can be easily construed as promises. Unfortunately, the rules of politics are different. In that vein, I have wished him luck on his campaign. For, as I see it, it doesn't matter how qualified you may be or how much you want "to do something" for the betterment of your community, it all comes down to the art of politics. It's who you know, how much power you exert, and the amount of money involved which seems to get people elected.

I am truly saddened by this and applaud Steve and others like him for attempting to make a change. However, I wonder if it's possible. I wonder what voters think when they read the newspaper. I wonder if "truth, justice and the American way" and "government for the people, by the people, and of the people" really exist or are just sentiments in Superman comic strips and elementary school history books.

Drug problems stem from families, not education

To the Editor:

In reading the article Eye-witness, September 6-12 issue, "Teens 'DARE' schools to get drug program that works", my heart was saddened. Here, I read, our future crying.

Want to get attention for the 'DARE' program? Bring in real life addicts; recovering and not. Young and old. Have a refresher course at the middle school and high school levels. Not the whole thing. An assembly type deal. Someone to tell them what they have been and what they are going through. It's unrealistic for them (students) unless they see first hand.

There's many out there. Recovering, suffering, longing for the next high. Some that get caught, some that don't. Michigan had/has a "no tolerance" law. Good thing, I'm alive today. As a first time "caught" offender, I faced up to life imprisonment. Behind bars and that of my own imprisonment. I had good support behind me in my family, and, a judicial system that saw my desire, my want to, to stay clean. A system that, with lots of work on my part and theirs, saw that I was sincere in by battle and there was hope. A system that won't let me go. I'm still in the system...for a lifetime. For less than half a gram. How many children have died for less than a cartridge of bullets, though? One bullet can kill a person. One line, one pill, one needle, one joint could kill just as quick.

The battle against drugs is hard. The battle to get off and stay off is equally hard. The rash that seems eternal from the deadly toxins leaving your body. The little shadows that creep around you trying to hurt you, watching every move, waiting. The shakes, tremors, seizure- full blown seizures. The fatigue. The restlessness. The nausea from the lack of the drugs. The loss of "so called" friends. The fear of the new beginning.

Feelings pop out of nowhere. People are on 'your case' more so than ever. No one trusts you...not even yourself. No one calls to see if you're o.k. Your friends (non-using) want nothing to do with you because they feel betrayed, lied to, manipulated, violated. Violated? Yes. You've raped them of their innocence of true friendship.

"But both my parents work and have no time for me." How say. If more parents would say "no" and stick to it when it came to giving in to the children. If more parents would find time.

The love of money has driven the American family away from the American family. Values, traditions, togetherness...All gone. Kids these days are more than just spoiled. They are in essence, neglected. For what? The all mighty dollar. The outcome?

Intolerable, mouthy, disrespectful, mean children with no sense of self. ADD! ADHD! To the doctors we go and like magic, with prescription drugs and (lack of better wording) a lazy society, we have 5 year old full blown addicts. HELLO! Where would we be today if that was the norm 20-30 years ago? Patience, love, affection, discipline. Some things our society lacks. For what? Money.

Discipline has become abuse. Even grounding a child to their room is emotional abandonment and that's child abuse. Reverence, respect, and fear have become the parents role and not that of the children. Fear, in the sense I'm referring, is related to "for every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction".

Today, I feel, parents need to put their foot down and say "NO". Don't like those clothes that sag down to their knees? Don't buy them! Scary. Common sense. The kids buy their own clothes? Set down guide line and ground rules. HELLO! All parents are "mean" and "uncool". We were teenagers once. We can definitely relate.

When, if ever, before the age of 25 is a parent ever right or for that matter make sense? Personally, I've never seen it.

Structure, with love and family involvement. That's what most of these kids want and need. They turn to drug use and gangs for these things. Take them to church. Plan family events...and don't back out for any reason! Show them that they are loved and wanted and the needs will be fulfilled. Sit down to family dinners. If sports or work interrupt...DETOUR! Make a new family dinner schedule.

"Grades in school are bad. What do I do?" Pull them off the team, take away drivers ed, take away internet privileges, take away the phone. Place a grade standard. Sit down with the child and help them. Find them to help them. Show them their work is just as important as yours if not more. Who knows! Maybe they'll need it for the future job they will hold. Maybe they'll need it so that they, too, can make that all mighty dollar! Children are a product of their environment and that environment starts at home, folks!

I 'DARE' everyone reading this to try. Money isn't worth the paper it's printed on if it takes away from the family. Yes, paper comes from trees, and money is printed on paper, so, therefore money does grow on trees (I have teenagers developing their logistic skills, can you tell?). But, my tree is deep rooted. My tree is FAMILY. Can you say that?

Our drug problem today, I feel, is lack of family, not education. Keep the education going! I'm all for it. It's a great program. Let's start incorporating family. It's lack of commitment. Lack of love. Let's stop and think about this moment. For example: In growing up, both your parents worked so to ensure you got everything you wanted and everything else wanted, too. Were your needs fulfilled? Love? Most likely just words spoken not something felt. Hugs? Maybe on holidays, birthdays, or during a crisis. Nothing just because. Family dinners? Yeah. Mom made family sized pot of chili and everyone ate on the run. Family events? Yeah. Mom and dad had some friends over, you were introduced then sent off so that children were seen but not heard.

Sad isn't it? Today's youth is crying out. Let's close our mouths and open our ears and hearts to them. Let's get more involved with our youth. Let's strive to enrich our family values. After all, it is us, as the parents, that make the difference. Lots of hard work. Lots and lots of hard work. I feel our children are worth the work. Find time. We brought them into the world now let's show them how to be productive, in a loving way, in the world. Let's work on bringing up our children as an adventure and not as a job. Children are precious gifts. Open them. Love and cherish them. Don't just throw them in the toy box for later use. Parents, hear our children cry.

I am asking for my name to be withheld from this article. It is an opinion. Just a thought. I'd appreciate your cooperation in my anonymity.

Sincerely,
Anonymous

Attention Readers

Michigan Community Newspapers is well aware of the concerns of some of our readers as to why we only list Van Buren, and sometimes Romulus and Canton Reports.

The reason for this is, Westland, Wayne and Inkster do not feel obligated to give this information freely as Van Buren does.

To the caller on sound-off, yes, there is plenty of crime in Westland, you just do not see it in print as they do not hand out their reports.

Van Buren is not a crime ridden township. It is a very nice and peaceful place to live. You see their reports, because they willingly give their logs to MCN to keep the residents in their area aware of what is going on around them. If the other cities did this, maybe crime would be less, as people are more aware to be watching for what is happening in their neighborhood.

Wayne Fire Report

The City of Wayne Fire Department reported 1 Industrial fire, 5 'other' fires and 33 rescue calls during the week of September 7 and September 14.

Van Buren Reports

A rollover accident was reported at Michigan and Dellor on September 1 at 7am.

A caller revealed that some children were left unattended in a car at Farmer Jack's on September 1.

There was a disorderly person at Super 8 on September 3 at 9:05pm.

Being disorderly was the last thing this person should have done as he was arrested on outstanding warrants.

A vehicle was reported stolen from Harbour Club Apartments on September 4 at 12:44am.

A stolen vehicle was recovered at Southport Apartments and impounded at 2:30am on September 4.

An alarm went off in a business in the Haggerty Center on September 4 at 3:19am.

Officers arrived to find the back door opened. They entered, found all intact and secured the door.

At 5:45am on September 4, a car vs. utility pole accident occurred on Bemis Road.

Three people were arrested at the scene as the car was discovered to be stolen.

The Woodlands called and reported a coin machine had been broken into and change stolen.

Two traffic arrests were made on September 4 in the early part of the day.

The first was for a suspended license at Belleville and Tyler. The next was at I-275 and Michigan Ave. for an expired license. Both suspects were later released.

A citation was issued at Meijer's on September 4 at 12:53pm due to retail fraud.

Malicious destruction of property was reported at a location on Huron River Drive.

A warrant arrest was made at Belleville Rd. and Michigan Ave on September 4. As well as two warrant pick-ups were made on the same day. The first from the Orange Lantern, the next from the Washtenaw County Jail.

A resident in the 39000 block of Price St. called to report destruction of a vehicle at 1:30pm on September 5. A warrant arrest was made at the scene.

Residents of Parkwood called police to a home in the 9000 block due to domestic violence.

An arrest was made after it was determined that the violence was physical.

Patrons of Denny's called officers to assist a homeless man on September 6 at 4:48pm.

Officers went to the restaurant and transported the man to a shelter.

At 9:54pm, officers made a traffic stop at the North Service Drive at Lighthouse.

This stop proved to be important as the driver of the vehicle was found to be in possession of cocaine, as well as driving on expired plates.

An arrest was made at the scene without incident and the vehicle was impounded.

Meijer's management did not appreciate the drag racers in their parking lot on September 6 at 10:45pm.

Police were called to the location and two arrests were made. One was arrested on a warrant, the other for a suspended license.

Residents of Presidential Estates called and reported a teenager exposing himself in public, walking around with his pants around his ankles.

The teen was arrested and hauled off to jail.

The occupants of some vehicles driving in Andover Farms were shooting paint balls out of the cars.

They were gone when police arrived, but a report was made.

On September 7 at 9:36pm, a loud music complaint came in from the 11000 block of Oak Lane.

Officers responded to the area, politely asked for the music to be lowered, and one of the occupants became disorderly and was arrested.

Police investigated a call from the 43000 block of Burtrig which reported child neglect. The child was removed from the home.

The shoplifter was a juvenile whom police turned over to his mother.

A personal protection order violation lead to an arrest at Harbour Club Apartments on September 9 at 10:23pm.

A car/utility pole injury accident happened on September 10 at Haggerty and Huron River Drive at 12:32am.

The traffic lights were ripped from the pole. The driver attempted to leave the scene and was arrested for drunk driving.

The traffic lights were laying off the side of the road at 7:30am that morning and the intersection was made into a 4 way stop. The township was quick to get the lights back up the same day.

Someone attempted to steal a car from the Waters Edge Apartments at 9pm on September 10 but did not succeed.

The suspect was arrested.

Canton gets another cop for trailer parks

It's official. Canton has been awarded yet another grant through the Michigan Office of Drug Control Policy to fund a community policing strategies program.

The $28,000 grant is a one-year renewable grant which calls for a local match of $18,000.

The new grant project, called the Dyme Memorial Grant Program, will see a community policing officer assigned to patrol three mobile home parks in Canton totaling about 800 home sites. Those mobile home facilities targeted under the grant include Sherwood, Westpointe and the Academy Pointe parks.

Already community police are helping these parks deal with problems, such as bad tenants, before the trouble escalates. Instead of waiting for the troublemakers to commit crimes so they can arrest them, the community police are trying to resolve the problems through meetings, according to John Santomauro, the township's public safety director.

The Canton Board of Trustees Tuesday is expected to sign a formal grant contract with the Office of Drug Control Policy.

The new officer will be responsible for patrolling in the target area coordinating the neighborhood watch programs and working with residents and at-risk youths to find appropriate social services. The officer will also serve as a school liaison to the neighborhood elementary school and will work in conjunction with the newly opened Canton Human Services Center on Michigan Avenue.

According to Canton officials, the new grant is a logical move following the upcoming expiration of the grant program at Canton Commons. That program is scheduled to end in September.

Belleville seeks 'sweet 3' at Wayne's expense

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Undefeated Belleville will place its modest two-game winning streak on the block Friday night when the Tigers clash with coach Floyd Carter and the Wayne Memorial Zebras at Wayne High Stadium.

Coming off of an impressive victory over a young Southgate Anderson team last week, Belleville coach Bob LaPointe pointed out that Wayne is a much improved ball club this year and is much bigger and more physical than in recent years.

Wayne goes into the Mega Conference, Red Division battle with a 1-1 record. The Zebras were shutout at Dearborn Fordson, but Carter didn't have in his lineup his premier running back Cameron Mingo and 6-7, 270-pound two-way tackle Steve Barber.

Both Mingo and Barber suffered injuries in the opening-season victory over Adrian and are sidelined.

"They're questionable for Friday night's game," said Carter, commenting on his two key players' injuries. "We hope to have Barber back, but he is still hurting."

You can understand why we have to be at our best to stay on the same field with them.

- Floyd Carter

Carter returned to the team this year as head coach after serving as an assistant on Chuck Howton's staff for the past four seasons. He coached Wayne in the late 1970s and early 1980s.

Carter said that Belleville is a well-coached, talented team that is a pre-season favorite to repeat. The Tigers and Monroe tied for the title a year ago.

"They have some very talented players in their fullback (Greg) Terrell and Grantham (quarterback C.J. Grantham)," Carter added. "Add the Jenkins and Harrison kids to that list, and you can understand why we have to be at our best to stay on the same field with them."

Wayne didn't execute on offense and also committed two fatal turnovers Friday night at Fordson, which Carter said, paved the way to the team's first loss.

Fordson cashed in on a Wayne fumble in the closing minutes of the first quarter for its first score. The Tractors took control of the game and scored with 13 seconds left when quarterback Ali Dabaja combined with Mohamed Salamey on a six-yard touchdown pass.

That Fordson TD finished off a 33-yard drive which took 10 plays after Belal Majed recovered the mishandled ball. A fourth-and-one conversion from the 24-yard line was the key to the Tractors' first touchdown.

Fordson collected an insurance TD in the second quarter.

A 19-yard drive in six plays also followed by a fumble recovery by Ahmed Harajli got the hosts on the scoreboard again. This time, Ali decided to go in on a keeper from the one.

Romulus, Russell roll to 2nd win

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Like the adage about U.S. Mail, which will not be stopped by rain or snow storm, tailback Freddie Russell continued to make special deliveries for Romulus.

The senior running back scored four touchdowns to bring his total to nine for the season in a lopsided 42-0 victory over visiting Dearborn Heights Annapolis before an elated home crowd Friday night.

Russell rushed for 163-yards on 16 carries and scored on runs of 14, 17, 4 and 9 in the Eagles final home game for the month of September.

Coach Mark Woodson will take his club on the road for the next four games with a stop this Friday at River Rouge, a team that has a 1-1 record after losing to defending Mega Conference Gold Division champ, Carlson.

Rouge, noted for its aerial assault, didn't get off the launching pad against a physical Carlson team last Friday. "Rouge has an excellent passing attack," said Woodson, after the easy win against Annapolis. "They will test our secondary. Believe me they will."

Against Annapolis, the Romulus defense again stood out. The Cougars were held to minus yardage on the ground and 83 in the area.

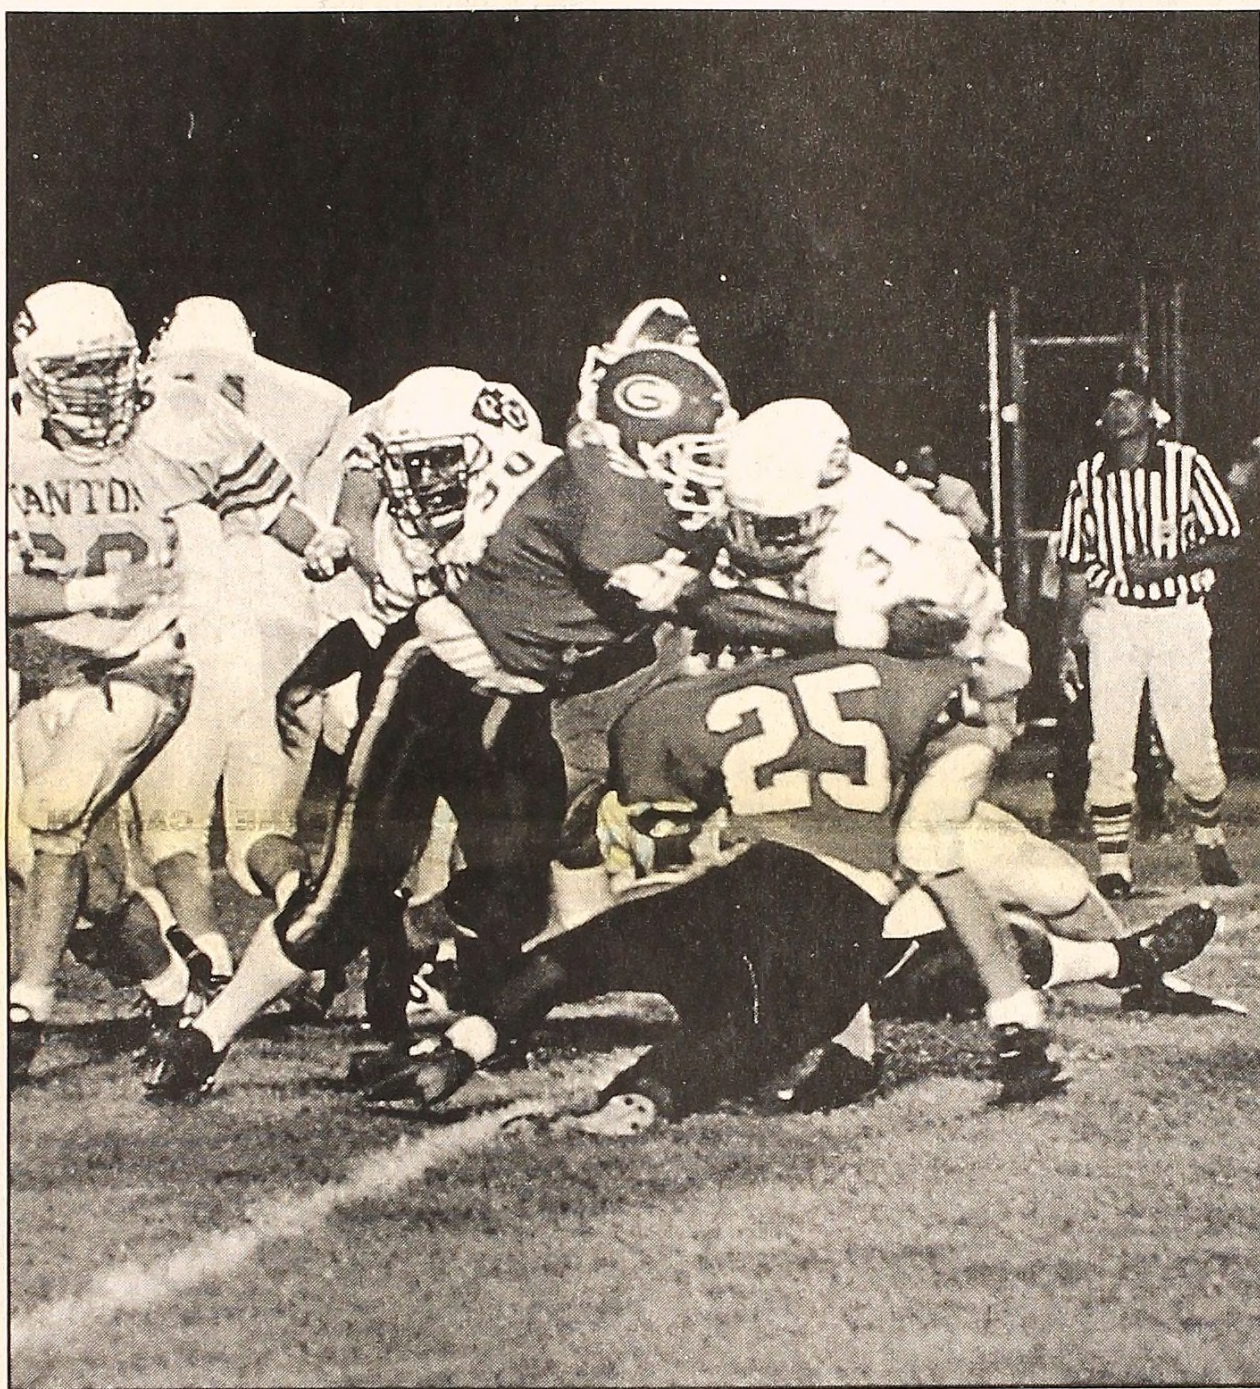

The Eagles scored twice in the first period as Russell polished off a midfield drive with a 14-yarder with 3:41 left. The two-point conversion went from quarterback Robert Boykins to A. C. Chadwick.

Then, a minute later, Romulus was again on the scoreboard again as fullback Charles Thompson broke loose on a 24-yard TD jaunt after defensive halfback Eddie Woods stole a misfired Annapolis missile.

Eric Plave missed the extra point.

The Eagles added two more scores in the next 12 minutes

Spearmon adds four more touchdowns to TD output

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With senior tailback Reggie Spearmon pouring it on, Westland John Glenn blasted Plymouth-Canton, 33-7, in the Western Lakes Conference football opener for both teams.

Continuing to provide the high-octane fuel that keeps the Rockets soaring over their opponents, Spearmon ignited the Rockets' offensive engine with four touchdown runs in his 221-yards on 22 carries game.

Spearmon appeared untouchable by the Canton defense which tried everything to stop the senior back but to offer him sweet potato pie.

After Canton held the Rockets scoreless the first quarter, Spearmon came back for three of his four TDs in the second quarter. He took a handoff from quarterback Nick Hudson and sprinted 15 yards into the Chiefs' end zone for his first score.

Jeremy Catarino booted the extra point to lift the hosts to a 7-0 lead.

Then, with 3:36 left, Spearmon again capped a short drive with a 10-yard touchdown jaunt, and Catarino's boot made it a 14-0 game.

At the half, the Rockets were up 20-0 and well on their way to their second victory.

Spearmon and Hudson found a hole in the Canton line in the final minute of the half and Spearmon blew right through and didn't stop until he had a 44-yard touchdown on the books.

At the half, the Rockets were up 20-0 and well on their way to their second victory.

But Spearmon wasn't through with Canton, yet.

In the first minute of the last quarter, with 11:37 showing on the Rockets' new scoreboard, Spearmon turned in a stunning effort as he raced 89-yards for his fourth-and-final TD of the evening. That TD tied Glenn's longest TD run record.

Catarino again converted.

But Canton managed to come back and score in the final three minutes as Jeremy Gaines found a hole that the Chiefs' ballcarrier used to

Rocks crush Churchill

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Better. Much better.

Those are the words used by coach Tom Moshimer to describe the Rocks' offense after Plymouth-Salem crushed Livonia Churchill in the Western Lakes Conference football opener Friday night.

With Gabe Goble and Dave Clemens each scoring two touchdowns, the Rocks picked up a 33-7 victory to even their season record to 1-1. They'll meet Livonia Stevenson on the home turf, and Moshimer promises a "barnburner for this one."

"Stevenson is a greatly improved (over last year) team," said the veteran Salem coach, "and they showed us a lot in their victory last week over Franklin. I can say this, our game will be a close one."

Both Salem and Stevenson go into Friday night's game with identical 1-1 records.

Against Churchill, the Rocks scored TDs in all four quarters.

In the opening series of plays, Salem quarterback Matt Fair engineered a 70-yard, 13 play drive that was capped with a handoff to fullback Eric Peterson who drove five yards for the opening touchdown.

Jason Furr booted the extra point, and the Rocks had a 7-0 lead.

The hosts turned it into a 15-0 game in the second quarter as Clemens scored his first of two TDs, set up by a Churchill fumble. Furr and Fair successfully executed the option for the two-point conversion.

Two Salem third-quarter touchdowns sealed this game for Moshimer and his team. Again, it was the option that sprung Goble loose for a 51-yard TD jaunt and that score capped a 67-yard drive which took three plays.

Goble came back late in the quarter and pulled off a 54-

Robichaud wins one for new head coach

Flyers fall to Bulldogs

By TOM MOORADIAN

Striking for two touchdowns in the second half, Robichaud overcame a 6-0 deficit Friday night and went on to claim a 14-6 victory over Willow Run in the Mega Conference, Gold Division football opener for both teams.

It also was a first victory for Bob Yauck Jr., as head coach. He replaced his father, Robert, who coached the Bulldogs for the nearly three decades, before he stepped aside.

"I was pleased with this victory," said Yauck Jr. "It's always nice to get your first win. And it especially is gratifying because we beat an excellent Willow Run team."

The week before Robichaud dropped its season opener to nemesis, Grosse Ile, 28-12, The Bulldogs blew a 12-0 lead in that game.

Satisfied with his team's performance on defense against Willow Run, Yauck, however, noted that the offense has not yet played to its potential.

"We are not executing well," Yauck stressed. "This team has so much potential, and it must begin to show itself if we are to continue to win."

Robichaud is scheduled to meet cross-town rival, Dearborn Heights Crestwood, at 7 p.m. Friday.

Townsend suffers first loss

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It wasn't an easy one to digest.

Not for first-year coach Mark Townsend and his Vikings.

After burying Detroit Holy Redeemer, 30-8, in the season opener a couple of weeks ago, Townsend and his Vikings suffered a come-down-to-earth, 28-12, setback at the hands of Melvindale in their Mega Conference, Gold Division opener.

"I said before the season, we will have no excuses for our performances, and I will repeat that now," said Townsend. "But this is a hard loss to digest because, I felt, we were their equal."

The Vikings' defense, led by Anthony Wimberly, Eric Casey and Keith Jackson, held the Cardinals scoreless the first quarter before the hosts came back for two second quarter touchdowns that took the wind out of the Vikings' sails.

Inkster cut the Cardinal cushion with the help of quarterback Michael Hunter's 35-yard pass to tight end Tyrone Jenkins, which set up the Vikings first TD. Running back De-Andre Green took it in from the seven to make it a 14-6 ball game.

Inkster then shocked the Cardinal defense with Mike Gray's superb return of the third quarter kickoff. Gray yard sprint that ended in the Churchill end zone. Clemons wrapped up the scoring midway in the fourth quarter with a 63-yard run that stunned the Churchill defense. Clemons finished the game with an impressive 123 yards on eight tries and two touchdowns, while Goble chalked up 119-yards, also in eight carries. "We broke some big plays," said Moshimer, "but I felt our opening drive was our best drive." Churchill avoided the shut-out thanks to an 80-yard punt return by Ryan Kearney, which set up Aaron Geddes' three-yard TD plunge after a handoff from quarterback John Bennett.

Russell

as Russell cashed in a 17-yard run for his second TD, and immediately came up with a Boykins' pass for the two-point conversion. Late in the third quarter, the senior tailback struck again, this time going across the seam from the four. With a comfortable 30-0 halftime score in his favor, Woodson wasted little time going to the bench in the final two quarters. Boykins and flanker Chadwick teamed up on a 28-yard touchdown pass, for the first TD of the fourth quarter, and Russell's nine-yarder wrapped up the game and the evening. Townsend finished with 53 yards for his six attempts, while Boykins was on target for six of his 16 passes for 125 yards. Marvin Madison, at right guard, and Matt Grube, at right tackle, teamed with Claude Hawkins, a left guard to make sure the Cougars didn't get any where with their rushing game, while Woods, apparently following in his father's footsteps, had three solos and one assist to go along with that key interception. "It was," said Woodson, "an excellent defensive effort by our team."

Vikings

burst through the middle of the field, eluded a cadre of Cardinal defenders, before heading down the sidelines and over the goal line for the Vikings' second TD. But two unanswered Melvindale touchdowns assured the Cardinals of the victory. Gray, who had 59 yards rushing, and Alphonso Clark, who had seven receptions for 80 yards, led the Vikings on offense. Wimberly, a middle line-backer, sacked the quarterback twice and had four other solos. Casey, the other defensive tackle, finished with five unassisted tackles, while Jackson finished with two solos. "This was a lost that was hard to swallow," said Townsend. But, if his first loss was a difficult one, the opening win in Hamtramck against Holy Redeemer was "a good start". Gray set the tone against the Lions as he cleared the end on a sweep and sprinted for a 77-yard touchdown that gave the visitors an 8-0 lead that they never gave up. Fullback Antonio Wimberly picked up the two-point conversion. Inkster made it a 14-0 game as tailback Green came up with a superlative 82-yard, off-tackle sprint for the second TD. Clark, on a bootleg, scored the two-pointer. Gray got the Vikings on the scoreboard with a 42-yard TD sprint in the third quarter, pulled off in the opening drive and Wimberly's up-the-middle run accounted for the two-point conversion. Clark put together a 65-yard drive that Antonio Wimberly culminated with a 12-yard TD jaunt.

attempt for the evening. Glenn came right back to answer Canton's lone score. Glenn's Eric Jones got the Rockets on the scoreboard with 2:52 left in the game on a 55-yard touchdown jaunt that dson airways as he hit on only three of 12 passes for 17 yards. Turner had one of his passes intercepted.

Scott Sheedy and Jeremy Overton were two excellent reasons why Wayne managed to shut down the Tractors' offense in the second half. Sheedy had a total of 14 tackles, while Overton turned in with 12. Turner and Pat put the wrappers on the victory. Glenn seeks No. 3 at the expense of winless Walled Lake Central Friday night on the home turf. Game time is 7 p.m.

Czanik each checked in with eight. But the story is in the possession stat box. Fordson had 17 first downs to Wayne's seven as the Tractors executed 55 plays to Wayne's 35 on offense. "You can't allow an opponent to have possession of the ball that many plays and hope to win," Carter said. "Obviously, we need to work harder on execution this week."

the game, have failed to win in their first two starts, but Yauck pointed out "that this is a well-coached (Crestwood) team. They have a very deceptive offense which works out of a Wing-T and our defense is going to be tested." Friday night, Willow Run struck early, grabbing a 6-0 first quarter lead on a 10-yard TD pass.

With 46 seconds left in the opening half, Willow Run gave up a safety when the Flyers were nailed deep in their own territory. They opted for the option to get them out of the precarious situation, and the play misfired. The pitch from QB to running back was fumbled and wound up in the end zone where Robichaud's Richard Howard pounced on the loose ball for the two-pointer.

In the opening series of the third quarter, Robichaud quarterback Quantine Riley and split end Terrance Jarrett combined on a 60-yard TD pass that gave the visitors an 8-6 lead.

Then, in the fourth-quarter, Robichaud collected an insurance touchdown when tailback Steve Scott capped a 67-yard sustained drive with a three-yard up-the-middle score. Scott led all Robichaud ball-carriers as he piled up 98 yards on 14 carries and one TD. Riley connected on three of his five passes for 85, including that 60-yard "bomb".

riers to the finish line with the Glenn runner getting the nod for the gold in a photo finish. Keyes' was clocked in 17:48.93, a fraction of a second better than Hadous' effort of 17:48.87. But the next Glenn finish was a seventh place turned in by P.J. Wolocko, who toured the course in 18:16.04, while Josh's brother, Justin, nailed down the ninth spot (18:26.70).

In the meantime, coach Bob Bridges' Pioneers assured themselves of the championship trophy when two of Hadous' teammates followed him into the chute. Seniors Craig Peck and Danny Arrington finished third and fourth. "We have won the Dearborn Invitational for the past two years," said Glenn's Jess Shough. "I am not disappointed at our team's efforts. Dearborn had an exceptional team, this year." Dearborn piled up 23 points to win its own invitational, while Glenn's 58 points provided them with the runners-up trophy. Michigan's Internet-based job service is bringing employers closer together with a commodity they need most—namely, potential employees.

According to Doug Rothwell, CEO and department director of Michigan Jobs Commission, more than 202,000 resumes were posted, 24,000 job openings were listed and almost 114,000 searches totaled on the Michigan Talent Bank and Job Bank, our state's Employment Services Internet sites. The Talent Bank is the largest Internet-based public resume system in the nation, with thousands of resumes added daily.

In a survey of participants of this new system, which began in early February, 39 percent got jobs within 90 days. That's the best success rate in the country for helping people find work.

A few of the positives of this system for both employers and potential employees are 24-hour access and getting to resumes and additional job information without having to call someone during regular business hours. The sorting process also gets high marks for efficiency. This tool allows employers to input key words pertaining to skill in order to bring up resumes of job seekers that qualify for open positions. Whereas, on the other hand, potential employees have the chance to check out only the information that meets their specific occupational, educational and wage requirements.

The Talent Bank and Job Bank are free to employers and job seekers. They can be accessed at <http://www.michworks.org>. Employers are verified within 72 hours before being given full access to resumes. Anyone needing help getting into the Internet can call their local Michigan Works! Service Center at (800) 285-WORKS.

1998 Pontiac Grand Prix SE Sedan

By VICTOR BERNSTEIN
MCN Automotive Writer

Classified as a Midsize, the GRAND PRIX has a blend of full size features, good utility, style, and economy. Overall, I found this to be an interesting product and I much enjoyed my time in this demo. It is a very attractive automobile with good fit and finish, at a relatively easy to swallow price.

Power. This model comes with 3.8 Liter Series II V6. I found it to be adequately powered both in town and on the highway. The vehicle responds to the gas pedal without complaint.

Transmission. Equipped with a powertrain 4 speed electronic automatic transmission, I again found no grounds to complain. The whole powertrain product works smoothly together to whisk the vehicle effortlessly down the road.

Handling. Equipped with front wheel drive, rack & pinion power steering, 4 wheel independent suspension, and Enhanced Traction System. The end result is a vehicle that is responsive and pleasant to drive.

Gas Mileage. It is rated as 19 MPG city and 30 MPG Highway and estimated annual fuel cost of $ 816. I used the GRAND PRIX for a week and was unable to run the gas tank dry.

Safety. This vehicle contains all the required standards of our day. Next generation driver & front passenger air bags, 4 wheel power anti-lock brakes, day time running lamps, remote control door locking, excellent power side view mirrors that offer very good visibility to the driver.

Dashboard Instrumentation. Again this vehicle has all the standards and some extra items. I found the design to be driver friendly and functional. While I very much loved having the sound system controls on the steering wheel, I found that I inadvertently was always either changing the volume or station by accident.

Option package. This vehicle was equipped with cruise control, AM/FM Stereo with compact disk player, equalizer, and eight (8) speaker system that really sings. This vehicle had a rear seat pass through that allows access to the trunk. Sixteen inch Aluminum wheels and a few other minor odds and ends.

The bottom line. This car met my expectations, however it did not excite me. From the on the road salesman point of view. I found it to be an ideal work or family car. I found no negatives in regards to my driving experience, nor did my passengers have any adverse comments. The manufacturer suggested retail price is $21,715, however the shrewd buyer will find advertised special prices far below this sticker price, especially with the arrival of the 99 fleet.

Michigan film debuts in Plymouth

Imagine a little boy, born in 1957 with a congenital birth defect that left him with a useless pair of legs. When he was four years old, his parents made the difficult decision to amputate his legs. Ron Bachman spent his early years trying to live a normal life but his heavy and bulky prosthetic legs never suited him so he abandoned them for the freedom of walking on his hands.

On October 17, 1998, WALK THIS WAY, a documentary film about Northville resident Ron Bachman, will host its world premiere at the Penn Theater in Plymouth, Michigan. Shot entirely in Michigan, the 30-minute film focuses on the extraordinary life of a person who has lived life on his own terms. The film is the winner of the CINE Golden Eagle Award and has been screened at the Nashville Independent Film Festival and in Los Angeles to qualify it for submission to the Academy Awards.

"Ron's personality carries the film," says Director Kathy Vander. "We show him in everyday life doing everyday things under extraordinary conditions." Ron has done many things in life, but he is most proud of raising his daughter alone from the time she was four years old. Alicia, now 18, has grown into a lovely young woman and in the film she talks about growing up unaware of the uniqueness of her father's situation. Longtime friend, Steven Tyler of Aerosmith, discusses the impact Ron has had on his life over the past 20 years.

In adulthood, Ron travels around the country on an Amigo scooter. Trained as a broadcast personality, Ron speaks to audiences of all ages about issues related to the handicapped. In the film, a group of school kids sit awestruck as they listen to Ron dispel the myths of the handicapped. Ron draws upon his early experiences and his sense of humor to teach and train others about human potential and achieving success despite the obstacles.

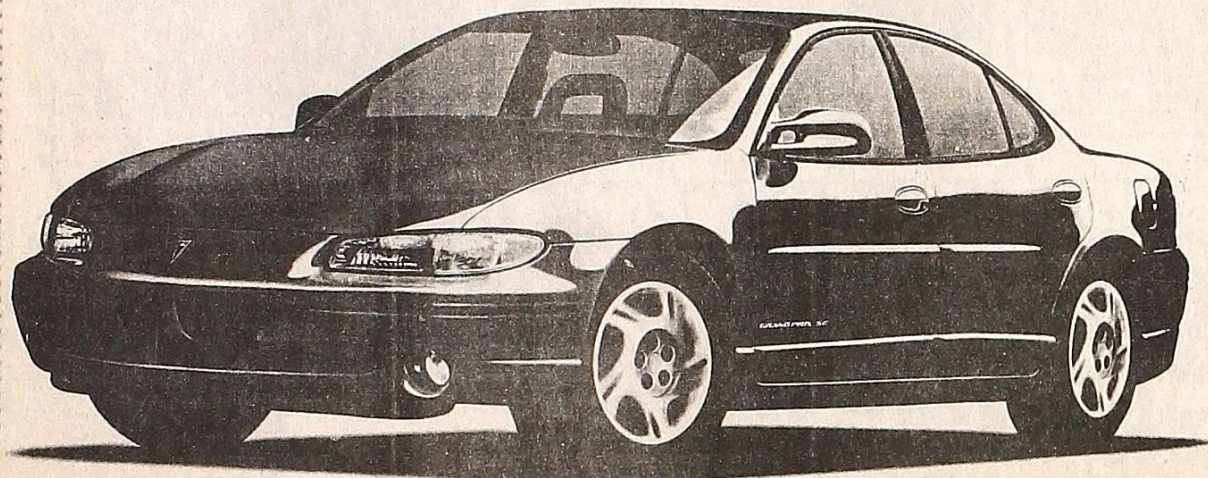

There will be two showings of the Comm documentary film - 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. at the Penn Theater, located in downtown Plymouth. Tickets are $10 each and should be purchased in advance by calling 248-542-8935.
